Dear Madame President and Members of the Board,

It has given me pleasure to contribute to the financial security of The Woman's Club as Rental Chairperson during the past year. In an 8 and 1/2 month period, I have been responsible for $19,265.00 in rental fees.

Although I am no longer in charge of rentals, I think that the new Rental Chairperson will have an easier job because of: 1) the beautiful new floors with 4 coats of polyurethane finish, 2) the advertisement which the board and membership sanctioned and which will appear in Here Comes the Guide from January 1995 to January 1997 and 3) the Palo Alto Weekly article which I secured. Item one has approved the appearance of the club and enabled me to experiment with raising the rental fees to $585.00 and Items 2 and 3 are important in order to inform the public that we exist.

I am sure that the next year will continue to be successful.

Sincerely,

Margaret R. Feuer

Letter from President Spears

Delivered Saturday
Madam President
Members of the Federation

I am exceedingly pleased to report to you. The Woman's Club of Palo Alto is utilizing each day. By the way, our motto is "Today is the day." Our days are spent happily arranging for assistance to Veterans, Charities and Scholarships. Another successful undertaking has been the 55 Alive Series of meetings where a "brush up" course is held for Senior drivers. Dept. of Forestry!
The rental of our Clubhouse has kept our financial reports secure and clean, for, we are sharing and knowing that others are learning or playing in our Building.

Our main goal seems to be the securing of new members
We will give Concentrated effort in order to add many members to the Roster.

All of our members have pleasant times when they enter 475 Homer Street - our Club-house address where we spend many enjoyable hours socially.

Jeanne McDonnell & Emily Renzel Conversation with Georgia Spears
on July 1, 2002

(Note: conversation was wide-ranging and these notes focus on Georgia's personal history and her recollections of club history. Many other sub-topics were discussed but are not included here. ER)

Gamma Club is still going. Louise Ames was one of the group that left the club precipitously at the time there was talk about selling the club. Debbie Riedel and her husband were very active in the club. She was adamant about not wanting to sell the club.

The club hired a new cleaner, not Georgia - Georgia's issue was that she liked her and was not happy with the way the board dumped her uncermoniously.

Some people volunteered for jobs but they didn't do them.

What finished Georgia with the club was when they gave her a $10 T-shirt as a thank you gift.

Personal: California Native. Her father's family (Shoemakers) were from Virginia. She was born in Pomona, CA She came to PA in 1926. When she was here she was taking merchandising courses all the time because that was her job. She worked at J.F. Hinks and Sons on corner of Bryant & University (now Restoration Hardware). It had a full basement with a fantastic needlework department with a knitting teacher. That's where Georgia learned to knit. Douglasses were down the street and Walsters was another general merchandise store. Irma Schwabel had worked at Walsters before she and her husband opened the notions store. She would go to SF to seek out special orders and get them within a couple of days. Louise Douglas was a good friend of hers. Georgia lived on Amherst between College & CA Ave. She used to hike on the hill above College Terrace. There were no trails and y;ou could wander anywhere. Her husband worked at Stanford Press. He was a printer by trade. He worked there until Stanford Insurance refused to insure him any more. He was a linotyper. He used to put the pages together for the signatures . Her first husband's name was Meyerhofer. They had two kids, both of whom have died. Then she was married to Walter Wood who died of cancer. Then she met Gordon Spears. She still has her granddaughter, Shirley. Georgia is thinking seriously about moving to Oregon if her granddaughter moves there. (Shirley's father is still up there.) Georgia and her husband had a motor home and went fishing up there to Florence, on the seacoast about midway up the Oregon coast. She's thinking of selling the house and going there because if Shirley moves, there will be no family close by here. Right now Shirley is about an hour away.

Georgia worked for many years downtown so she knew a lot of the merchants. Shirley Cobb had been overseas during the war and came back speaking Japanese. Georgia's former boss said she could sell furnaces in hell. She was good at selling cosmetics and perfumes - Elizabeth Arden, Revlon, etc. She also sold hair care products, but never did hair in her life.

The Club:

Georgia joined in 1978 - not 1980. She joined just before Trudy Lung. In the old furnace room there were some files that were so full y ou couldn't close the drawer. All of a sudden they were gone. This was the history for years back. Georgia thinks they were thrown away. One time Boots and Chuck Gould came in and said the switch was burned out in the furnace room and someone should take care of it. Georgia called Stanford Electric and it cost $90 to find out that the light bulb was burned out.

Frances Payne was in the U.S. Army. Georgia and Frances really hit it off. She had a very sharp mind. She would only join the army if she could be an officers. Georgia's granddaughter was a captain in the army and was commissioned as a major in the reserves. When Frances went overseas, they were taken off the ship in Italy and put directly in a bomb shelter. It was when the Americans were firing over the heads of the Americans at the Italians and Germans. Georgia went to Frances' church for years so she would see her at least once a week.

Dorothy Arbuckle's son and Georgia's son knew each other. Jeanne said it looked like Georgia was doing lots of everything. Georgia said she was trying to do what no one else would do. Gordon and Georgia used to go and haul out trash. A lot of it had built up and was a fire hazard. Once during lunch, the hauler couldn't get into the dump, so Georgia went out there with him to get him in. When she came back, the lunch had all been eaten. Irene Lawrence was very impressed. Dump entry was free in those days if you were a resident.

Georgia's mother and step-father lived on Parkinson a few doors down from Newell Road.

Georgia keeps in touch with Lois Houghton who was part of Georgia's unofficial "advisory group" along with Frances Payne, Betty Bonn, Betty Bonn is still in her house and her nephew is hoping friends will visit. Emily told bridge story on Grace Bodley's birthday. Georgia plays mah jong with Boots and used to play with Mary Fran Pollard. Georgia's sister is 102 years old but is in a rest home and is as mean as ever.

Georgia had a toy poodle which lived to be 17 - 1/2. She can hardly wait to get settled so she can get another dog. Nicky would bring Gordon home when he got lost after he got dementia.

Georgia had three sisters and a brother. Her brother had a stroke and died at age 93. Georgia cared for him for 14 months until he died of prostate cancer. During that time Georgia learned she had diabetes. Her brother was her hero, because she was always picked on by her older and younger sister and he defended her. The 102 year old is the oldest, then the brother, then a sister 5 years older. Her parents were married in 1897 or 1898. Her father brought his shotgun from virginia and her brother had this gun and wanted to sent it down to their nephew. Then her sister failed and Georgia went down to Laguna Beach and was there for 25 months. She was driving her brother's old Tbird with 32k miles. She was rear-ended in LA at a stop sign by a jeep cherokee and the car was totalled. Her spinal stenosis may have come from that.

Renters were taking the club's food and also dishes. Georgia had the locks put on and everyone had a fit. Georgia went out herself and got all the locks with the same keys. The board stopped the young man from finishing aligning the locks. Eventually Tom Salabert had to do it.

Georgia said that some people don't seem to recognize the number of servings in a lunch. The Elks Wheelers made a rule that it had to be enough for 10 people when there was potluck. Still there wasn't enough.

Georgia said that lunches were special in the old days. The Club used to have teas instead. Joyce Leonard began the lunch meetings to compress the meetings into the lunch hour so working women could come. Luncheons were ususually special.

Georgia said the that the lace tablecloths were filthy. Georgia laundered them and rewove them. When she went to high school in Palo Alto, she had a very particular sewing teacher who taught darning and re-weaving. The early women at the club never bought anything but the very best. Georgia said the good dishes were locked in the dining room. Georgia brought down the old sets to use.

Dorothy Arbuckle expected the building to be sold so she put the cheapest dishwasher she could in the clubhouse. That took its toll on the dishes. At the beginning Dorothy and Boots were together but they veered apart. When you're a new member, you believe people and do what they want.

Debbie Riedel, who belonged to Gamma Club, did a lot of the work on the clubhouse. As a new member, Georgia didn't care very much. She feels protective now about the Elks Club where they want to tear it down. Georgia talked one time to the termite contractor (JNM Termite on Whisman) who talked about helping his father take care of the termites on the front porch. Georgia said the ballroom and stage are really marvelous. Jeanne said they used to call it the Assembly room.

Georgia is a mystery fan. She reads about 6 books a week. She has all the Agatha Christy's in paperback and hardback. Georgia also likes John Grisholm.

Here's where the tape ran out.

Notes from the Sunshine Chair

Georgia Spears, who has so graciously dispensed sunshine in the past, is now in need of being shone upon herself. Georgia's eye surgery will, she expects, make her vision better than ever.

Trudy Lung reports that Frances Payne is home and doing better, and that Nance Johnson's knee is on the mend.

Member News

Joyce Leonard was named to the board of the United Nations Association of the Mid Peninsula.

Carol Lin, Membership Chair, showcased the Woman's Club on Staturday October 8 at Cubberly as part of the City's Centennial recognition of non-profit organizations. Joyce Voorhies, Margaret Gould, Dorothy Arbucke, and Edith Kaiser helped staff the table.

All of us will need to assist Carol in bragging about the wonderful Woman's Club we are privileged to share and thereby attracting new members.

Bulletin December 1994

Programs

Monday, December 5, at 10:00 will be the finance committee meeting, chaired by Phoebe Seagraves. At 10:30 the board will meet to vote on the budget for 1995 among other items. There will be no general membership business meeting this month.

December 14 will be the Christmas Party. The Clef Hangers will perform, the superb chorus of the Junior League of Palo Alto. Most of the 15 singers will stay to tea. We look forward to meeting them, and also to becoming better acquainted with some of our new members.

Bring a gift to exchange, not to exceed $5.00 in value. We also encourage you to bring finger food for the buffet: small sandwiches, cookies, cake, nuts.

Board meetings in 1995 will be held on the first Monday of the month at 10 a.m. to noon.

Edith Kaiser reports that the Gaveleers, an association of Past Presidents, will gather at noon on December 16 at the home of Margaret Gould for their annual holiday party.

Doris Salabert, Program Chair, reports that our own treasure, Irene Lawrence, will entertain us with her wonderful piano music on January 18 at the birthday potluck at noon.

Member News

Joyce Leonard was recently named to the board of the UN Association of the Midpeninsula.

Membership Chair, Carol Lin, assisted by Dorothy Arbuckle, Joyce Voorhies, Margaret Gould, and Edith Kaiser, represented the Woman's Club at the Centennial event showcasing local non-profit organizations in October, where we shared a table with the Women's Heritage Museum.

Sarah French is co-president of the Association for Senior Day Health.

Sunshine

Since November 1, Phoebe Seagraves is happily back living in her own home at 850 Guinda St., 324 0509. Please correct your yearbooks.

Georgia Spears' lens implant was very successful and she believes her vision is the best she has ever enjoyed.

Trudy Lung's trip to San Antonio Texas was a great success. She visited her great grandson who teaches flying at the Air Force base in Schertz, Texas, and other highlights for her were a trip to the Alamo and the fascinating historical interpretation there, and the really fine walkway along the river in downtown San Antonio, line with centuries-old cypresses and pleasant restaurants and views.

President's Message

Best wishes and the blessings of the holiday season to all.

Please join me in helping others who are less fortunate by bringing in canned goods (nothing breakable) that I will deliver to the Urban Ministry.

A Hearty Welcome to New Members from City Hall

Some quotes from a news article in the Mercury News 11/2 about the Woman's Club:. "I think it's one of those hidden treasures in Palo Alto that gets so little exposure"--Councilwoman Micki Schneider; "To me, it's appealing to think of reconnecting with the women who first began to make a difference in Palo Alto and complete the historical circle. We'd like to continue their efforts."--Mayor Liz Kniss. Other new members from City government are June Fleming, Jean McCown, and Gloria Young. We are betting that these distinguished new members are assisting with the renaissance of the Woman's Club.

President's Message

It was a proud moment for me to find that members of the Club had donated an impressive quantity of canned goods for the needy. Donna helped load into my car what I estimated to be in the vicinity of 200 pounds of food. A large number of people were in line to receive assistance at the Urban Ministry when I drove up, so I truly felt our aid would be appreciated.

I know you all join me in the wish that our Club's New Year will continue as the last year ended, full of the pleasure and happiness of our Christmas gathering.

National Recognition

Jane Cunningham Croly (Jennie June) who in 1889 convened the first convention of women's clubs, where the General Federation originated, is now permanently honored with other notable women of U.S. history in the National Women's Hall of Fame in Seneca Falls, New York.

A Hearty Welcome to New Members from City Hall and the School Board

Palo Alto Councilwoman Helene (Lanie) S. Wheeler's name was inadvertently omitted from the list in the last bulletin of City Hall officials who have joined the Woman's Club.

From the School Board, Julie Jerome, Diane Reklis, and Susie Richardson are new Woman's Club members.

Dates for Your Calendar

Wed. Feb. 6, board meeting at 10:30, general business meeting, 1:00

Wed. Feb. 15, 1:00 Special Program, guest speaker, 50th Anniversary of United Nations

March 15, Ceremony of Installation of new members, lunch, arranged by the membership committee, Chair Carol Lin.

The Club's Rummage and Treasure Sale on Saturday May 6, and set up May 5, will swell the treasury to help meet our year's expenses. Call Dorothy Arbuckle or Lois Houghton for pickups, instructions for delivery, and offers to assist. Betty Bonn and Gerogia Spears will store items, Joyce Voorhies will arrange the bake sale, Lois Houghton will be in charge of kitchen equipment. Persons who donate clothing are reminded to keep it hanging up to avoid terminal wrinkling. All members should think about how they can assist in some way.

All reports were complimentary about the quarterly birthday potluck lunch in January, and especially about the very fine and entertaining program by Irene Lawrence, whose piano playing does so much to make the Woman's Club a happy place. The Bulletin Club editor unintentionally made history by requesting a song Irene didn't know--"English Muffins and Irish Stew."

UN50 Commemoration

Joyce Leonard has invited distinguished visitors on February 15, including our own member, Grace Bodley, whose company did all of the printing for the UN charter meeting in San Francisco from April through June of 1945.

Marie Wolbach, director of the California American Association of Universtiy Women International Interests, will discuss women's influence on the UN Charter, and acquaint us with some of the significant events bein planned for the June 21-26 celebration in San Francisco.

Others who have been invited are Elizabeth Duveneck Dana, who chauffered foreign dignitaries for the U.S. Army; Jack Sutorious, former Mayor of Palo Alto who, as a boy scout, ran messages for the diplomats and staff; and Jay Rusmore, longtime UN Association of the Midpeninsula Board member, who attended the signing. Several of the persons who were present during the historic meeting will display UN mementoes.

Joyce points out that the Woman's Club was already half a century old when the United nations Charter was signed.

The public is cordially invited. Please bring friends to this superb program.

Nominating Committee

Members of the nominating committee elected at the last business meeting are Margaret Feuer, Irene Lawrence, Carol Lin, Trudi Lung, and Ella Vandervoort.

Trudi Lung, Sunshine Chair, has dispensed cheer in the form of notes, cards, and good wishes to shut-ins and to Lucille Albright who is recovering from a fall, Edith Kaiser, who is ill, Frances Payne, who is now at Lytton Gardens and receiving therapy after her operation, and Georgia Spears' husband, Gordon, who suffered an injury from a fall.

We honor the memory of Mary Edith Clifford, a long time Woman's Club member, who died on December 26 at the age of 84 after a brief illness. She was a graduate of Palo Alto High School, and held a degree from Stanford University in 1930 in English. She was a good friend to many Woman's Club members, and a positive influence in the community through her many affiliations, including the American Association of University Women, Palo Alto Historical Association, Stanford Library Association, Neighbors Abroad.

Nominating Committee

Chairwoman Trudi Lung reports that the nominating committee is obtaining good results and will post their recommendations for the seven officers for 1995-96 at the business meeting on March 1. The election of these officers will be held on April 5.

These positions are President, Vice President, 2nd Vice President, Treasurer, Corresponding Secretary, Recording Secretary, and Financial Overseer.

Trudi Lung, Sunshine Chair, has dispensed cheer in the form of cards to Frances Payne and Beulah Hodges, and also reports that Gordon Spears, our President's husband, is recovering from his serious fall.

For the Rummage Sale, Trudi is in charge of the boutique that features jewelry and newer things, and these items should be channeled to her.

Community Issues

Joyce Leonard and several other members began a discussion about forming a Committee on local concerns. Look for more information about this in future Bulletins.

Joyce arranged our excellent program on February 15 about the UN with Marie Wolbach, AAUW International Chairwoman, as the featured speaker.

Wed., April 19, 1:00, Armchair exploration of San Francisquito Creek and the adjacent watershed. The featured speaker will be Debbie Mytels, head of the state-supported Coordinated Resource Management Plan for this important riparian habitat in our midst. We will show the excellent video, "A Creek Runs Through It," edited by Peter Drekmeier of Bay Area Action. Bring friends, place notices in public places you frequent. The public is cordially invited to attend. Joyce Leonard has planned this program, Joyce Voorhies has publicized it.

Wed., May 3, 12:30, the School District Bond Measure. Three of our newest members are going to present a program on the school district's proposed bond measure. The speakers will be Julie Jerome, Diane Reklis, and Susie Richardson, all School Board members and new Women's Club members. Among the school needs they will explain are the age of the buildings, the need for earthquake retrofitting, the lack of adequate wiring for modern technology. Refreshments will be provided by Julie, Diane, and Susie.

Wed., May 17, 1:00, installation of new officers.

Refreshments at all meetings except the board meeting.

Trifles and Treasures: A Rummage Sale

The rummage sale date has been changed to Saturday, Apr. 22 9:30 to 4:00. We will also open for sales on Friday, April 21 while we are setting up and pricing from 10:30 to 4:00. On Thursday, Aprl 20, we will set up and price from 10:30 to 4:00 without being open to the public.

All hands on deck please for this important fund raiser for the Club. The committee urges all to share in the work by allocating at least four hours and preferably more to staffing or preparation.

Needed: workers (please bring own lunch and/or food to share), household items, furniture, baked goods. Joyce Voorhies, who is in charge of the baked goods table, conveys an S.O.S. for cookies, cakes, cupcakes, casseroles, preserves. She also operates a coffee canteen for passers-by, customers, and workers. Please bring your contributions to the food table at 9 a.m. Sat.

Trudy Lung eminds us that she manages the boutique, where items that are especially nice, treasures, are sold, and she looks for your contributions.

Slate of Officers and Board

Nominees for 1995-6 are President, Ella Vandervoort; First Vice President, Jeanne McDonnell; 2nd Vice President, Carol Lin; Treasurer, Mildred Arbuckle; Corresponding Secretary, Joyce Voorhies; Recording Secretary, Margaret Gould; Financial Officer, Dorothy Arbuckle. Directors serving their second year are Beulah Hodges, Doris Salabert, Margaret Feuer, and Trudy Lung. New board nominees are Joyce Leonard, Ruth Fluegel, Diane Claerbout.

Mon. May. 1, joint meeting of new and outgoing boards at 10:00 a.m. Boots Gould will coordinate refreshments.

Wed., May 3, 12:30, the topic at this meeting where the public is welcome is the School District Bond Measure that Palo Altans will soon be voting on. Palo Alto schools have been a model of excellence due to community support, and may we remind our members that the Woman's Club originated and fostered the quality of the Palo Alto schools in the early history of the town. Three of our members are going to present a program on the school district's proposed bond measure for repairs to the physical plant, Julie Jerome, Diane Reklis, and Susie Richardson, all School Board members. Refreshments.

Wed., May 17, 1:00, Installation of Officers, may sound like a dry subject, but it is primarily a time for taking an overview and looking anew at the direction and scope of the Club. The theme that has been a compass to Women's Clubs everywhere, Unity in Diversity, sounds contemporary, but was adopted in 1889. . Viva Wheation, District membership chair, will install the new officers, present federation awards to our Club, and report on the recent Convention.

Thurs., May 4, 12:00, Bridge Section, yearly Merry-Go-Round Playoff, at the Club, bring a sandwich.

Trifles and Treasures: The Rummage Sale

The rummage sale on the weekend of April 22 earned approximately $500 for the maintenance of the Club, attracted a new member, renewed the acquaintance of numerous annual visitors to the Rummage Sale, and introduced the Club to others. Several workers who put in three full days on the project were Dorothy Arbuckle, Lois Houghton, Joyce Voorhies, Trudy Lung, Margaret Gould, Betty Bonn, with assistance from Joyce Leonard, Jeanne McDonnell, Dorothy's daughter, Carol, Georgia Spears, Irene Lawrence, Ella Vandervoort, Ruth Fluegel and many others who helped in gathering rummage and brought baked goods. About fifteen boxes of left overs will be donated to the Goodwill. The rummage sale improves the Club's financial underpinnings, and is a public service. There were customers throughout the memorable day. Club members next year might think of working at the Rummage Sale as part of their education in meeting a few of the diverse people of our mid-peninsula.

Moving Ahead

You will soon receive a questionnaire about what kinds of programs you would like the Club to sponsor, what time of day would be most convenient for you for meetings, what kinds of activity or areas of work you want to help on, and all those sorts of things that will make the Club responsive to the interests of the membership and the needs of the community.

Sunshine Chair Trudy Lung reports that she has dispensed cheer to Georgia, Frances, Beulah, Edith, and Mary Frances, who have suffered recent illnesses or injuries.

Dues are Due: Our Treasurer, Ella Vandervoort, would appreciate having everyone pay their dues before May 1, when she will be required to send out a second notice to the twenty persons who have not yet paid.

July 10, 9:30 a.m. to 3 p.m., we will host district workshops on officer training, membership, parliamentary law.
